

Asahidake

The Chinguruma that were flowering have become cotton like and are dispersing their seeds. The flowers that bloom in autumn have increased and the summer plants have begun to bear fruit. Occasionally you can hear the song of the Siberian Rubythroat as they fly above the creeping pines.

Alpine flowers currently blooming in the Sugatami area

Gentiana Nipponica

Solidago virgaurea ssp. Asiatica

False snow parsley (Tilingia ajanensis)

Certainly, from your feet up you'll see amazing alpine vegetation. While you're enjoying them, be sure to stay within the guide ropes to help us conserve the site.

The Asahidake campground is also home to a variety of alpine plants. You can enjoy strolls here free of charge and it's easily accessible. Come talk to the camp manager for tips.

Tenninkyō

Hydrangea macrophylla subsp. Yezoensis ↓

←Hagoromo Waterfall Aug.5th

You get free parking near the foot onsen, which is also free of charge to use. Come enjoy that after you hike to the tallest waterfall in all of Hokkaido. There is also Shikashima Hotel/Onsen that's right across the way. Remember one thing, there is NO restroom along the hiking route, so please plan ahead.
